

“Relationship Type is defined ~~in the same way that namespaces are defined for XML namespaces~~ as a URI. By using types patterned after the Internet domain-name space commonly used in XML namespaces, non-coordinating parties can safely create non-conflicting relationship types.”